T Square Ranch is located in the Northern California foothills in the community of Penn Valley .We are life long residents of Nevada County and have raised our family here for more than four generations. Our family has raised cattle in Nevada County for more than 140 years. We purchased our land separate from the family ranch in 2000 and with the summer fire danger we bought sheep to graze off the excess grass and brush. After starting with the Barbados breed we learned of the Dorper breed and in 2010 made the change to raise only full blood Dorpers. Go to American Dorpers Sheep Breeders Society www.dorper.org or go to Western States Dorper and White Dorper Association www.wsdorpers.com to see more on these amazing animals. Their friendly temperament makes caring for them easy. We have only bought the finest animals we could find and it shows in their offspring. Our commitment to small and large breeders is to continue breeding only the best full blood Dorpers in limited numbers. Look for us in the coming years. We have placed orders with some of the finest breeders in the country and will continue to produce only superior breeding lambs.

We purchased our ranch in Oakdale California in 1999. At the time had Barbs and Katahdins.

We purchased our first full blood Dorper ram in 2005 from Judy Mault in Idaho. We were hoping to increase the weaning weights on our Katahdin sheep. The results were more than we expected, with weaning weights almost doubled. The next year we purchased two full blood ewe from Karoo genetics and sold our Katahdins.

We run about 30—40 black headed full blooded Dorper ewes and recently purchased two rams from Half Circle Six Ranches. Both are John Dell breeding from Australia. One is an A.I. John Dell JoJo junior ram and Maverick daughter, the other an embryo out of John Dell Juke and a John Dell ewe. We want to breed a more traditional Dorper body type. Our first lambs from MoJo and Jukebox will be born in June. Watch our website for pictures.

Out of the need for sheep to train young dogs we, the Siegalkoff family of 2S Bar Livestock, discovered the Dorper breed. What we found was sheep of superior meat quality combined with easy maintenance. Dorpers are becoming increasingly in demand among the different meat markets because of excellent tenderness and flavor of the lamb meat. Out of this discovery we have chosen to upgrade our sheep production program by expanding to a registered herd to supply exceptional breeding animals as well as superb meat product.

We have had our small acreage about 25 miles SW of Portland, Oregon for about 30 years and have enjoyed raising a variety of small animals and birds over the years. We have been raising Dorpers over the last 10 years and have enjoyed them the most. We direct sell our lamb and found it hard to keep up with the demand because the meat quality is superb. We have an ongoing interest in bettering our carcass quality. My granddaughter Violet has been active in learning, showing and developing the sheep she claims out of my flock. She raised her first bummer lamb for the fair. My wife was lucky enough to retire well before me and tends the flock most of the time along with her chickens and ducks. We don't make much money on the animals, but we certainly eat well.

Glenn Land Farm White Dorpers have found a niche in both the upscale restaurant and farmer's market trade as well as in the ethnic community. Pasture finished lamb is desired by a large portion of the specialty market consumers and White Dorpers fit the specs perfectly. You may already be selling to these markets, but if you are not you should strongly consider the virtues of this breed of sheep in the market scheme of the major population centers of the western states. At Glenn Land Farm we are very excited about these sheep and we know you will be too once you try them. All of the consignors at the production sale are equally excited about Dorpers and hope you can come and enjoy a special day devoted to this breed.
